NORTHWEST BORN ARTIST LAUNCHES NEW ONLINE GALLERY AND WEB STORE Iconoclastic artist premiers work to public through new online platform

Sequim, WA (October 19, 2012)— This week, Washington native, Geri Lindsey, launches her new online gallery and web store. Geri Lindsey's extensive body of work has been developed for over five decades. While Lindsey's paintings and photography can be found in private collections around the world, this new platform will directly introduce her work to a much wider public audience.

The online gallery, <http://www.gerilindsey.com>, will feature new work from Lindsey every two weeks. Visitors are invited to return and 'tour' the gallery on a regular basis. The gallery will feature Lindsey's large-scale nudes, her signature 'Morning Arias', digitally reproduced 'Fragments' of pre-existing paintings, photography, and a line of all-occasion greeting cards that embodies her work.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

A native of the Pacific Northwest, known to many as a dynamic force of nature with a fierce love of life, Geri Lindsey has been cultivating her practice as an artist since she was a child. A former model with Sports Illustrated, Vogue and a past Miss Washington (1953), Lindsey's eclectic life story includes extensive travel and time on the road that began during her teens and twenties. Those early years of travel impacted her vision and her work to this day.

"I want people to be happy everyday, to feel the joy and spirit in the paintings they purchase." – Geri Lindsey

Lindsey's primary artistic influences include Arnold Mesches and Richard Diebenkorn, whom she studied with in LA during the 1960's, as well as Pierre Bonnard, Claude Monet, Julian Schnabel and Joan Mitchell.

Geri's works can be found in private collections across North America, including New York, Sun Valley, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles, and also in international collections in Europe and Japan. She has also created large-scale commissioned pieces and collection series for public spaces and businesses.
